Mikaila Ulmer is one of the youngest entrepreneurs in the United States. Her successful company is called Me & the Bees. They make delicious lemonade from a very special ¹recipe.

Mikaila started her business in 2009 when she was only 4 years old. It began with a business competition for children. Mikaila wanted to enter the competition, but she didn't have an idea for a business. Then, Mikaila got two bee ²stings in one week! That experience made her scared of bees. Mikaila's parents didn't want that, so they asked her to read about bees and understand them.

Mikaila did some research on honeybees and learned that they are very important to our planet. She also learned that they are ³dying out. That's why she decided to start a business which helps the bees.

Mikaila took a recipe for lemonade and added honey instead of some of the sugar. The recipe came from her great-grandmother Helen, and she got her honey from ⁴beekeepers in her area. She started selling the lemonade outside her home. From the start, she gave 10% of her ⁵profit to organizations which help honeybees. Everyone loved the lemonade and wanted more!

Soon, a local pizza restaurant asked Mikaila to sell them her lemonade. Then in 2014, Mikaila began selling her lemonade to a famous American supermarket. After that, she went on a TV show called Shark Tank to try to get more money for her business. She succeeded!

Today, stores in every part of the U.S. sell Mikaila's lemonade, and her company has made a lot of money. In 2021, Mikaila wrote a book called Bee Fearless about her experiences. She hopes other young entrepreneurs will read it and feel that they can succeed, too!

1. Anna ran with more than _____ people.
2. Anna ran about _____ kilometers.
3. About _____ young women listened to Anna's talks.

A JOURNEY ACROSS BRITAIN ... WITH NO SHOES ON!

A lot of people run long distances, but not many do it without shoes! Meet British adventurer, speaker, and author Anna McNuff. In 2019, she ran about 3,785 kilometers across Britain – that's the same as doing 90 marathons! And yes, she did this ¹barefoot.

Anna's adventure began in June in the north of Scotland. It finished in London five months later. Why did Anna choose this challenge? She wanted to show young women that they can do things which look impossible.

It took Anna 18 months to prepare for her challenge. Anna needed to learn how to run without ²footwear, so her coach showed her some exercises.

During her training, Anna ran barefoot and in special socks. Every week, she ³increased the distance she ran. At the end of her training, Anna's feet were much stronger, and she was ready for her challenge.

Anna spent 168 days on the road and ran about 32 kilometers a day. Her route covered parts of Scotland, Northern Ireland, the Channel Islands, and the South Coast. More than 2,500 people ran with her on different parts of her journey. They enjoyed taking part in her adventure, even for a short distance.

Did Anna run with a big backpack? Of course not. She only carried a small light bag of ⁴essentials. When she needed accommodation for the night, lots of people were happy to offer their homes. And when there wasn't a place to sleep indoors, she camped!

During her journey, Anna McNuff visited 143 towns, and she gave talks to about 1,700 young women. Anna completed her challenge on November 17, 2019. She had injuries on her feet, so they were really ⁵sore. Anna really needed a rest, but it was all worth it!
